In the year 2001, the Israel Accounting Standards Board released Israel Accounting Standard 12, which deals with discontinuance of the adjustment of financial statements. According to this Standard (and the amendment of it by Israel Accounting Standard 17), the adjustment of the financial statements to inflation is to be discontinued as of January 1, 2004. Pursuant to the Standard’s instructions, the Company ceased the adjustment to inflation of its financial statements as of January 1, 2004.

G. Investment in subsidiary

The investment in subsidiary was stated in the Company's financial statements until December 31st, 2005 on an equity value basis.

The excess of cost of the investment in a subsidiary over its net equity value on acquisition, which is not directly attributable, represents goodwill and is amortized over a period of ten years until December 31st, 2005. Deferred taxes are computed according to the liability method, with respect to temporary differences between the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and their tax basis. The Company recognizes tax benefits receivable where the expectation of realization of the benefits is probable.

K. Impairment of assets

The Company examines on each balance date the returnable amount of its assets whenever signs of impairment of those items exist. When an asset's book value exceeds its returnable amount, the Company recognizes the loss from impairment of that asset. Loss from impairment of assets, excluding goodwill, which was recognized earlier, is annulled only in the case of a change in estimates used to determine the returnable amount, as of the date when the last loss from impairment was recognized. The book value after the annulment will not exceed the book value of that asset that would have been set, unless the loss from impairment had been recognized during prior years.

The Company impaired goodwill registered in its books at the amount of 1.7 millions NIS and an amount of 351 thousands NIS in its subsidiaries books due to the discontinued operation.

During the year 2000, the Company's board of directors approved a plan to allocate shares to employees.

Eight thousand of the shares issued to the employees were purchased by the parent company during December 2004.

In December 2004, the Company's board of directors approved a plan to grant options to employees, functionaries and directors of the Company.

According to the plan, up to 100,000 options will be granted to employees, and can be exercised for the Company's ordinary shares of 0.1 NIS par value.

The shares grant the right to receive dividends and the right to receive a part of the Company's assets upon dissolution, but do not entitle their owners to any voting rights.

The options will be granted to the employees without consideration and without an exercise price.

Employees will not be allowed to sell or to transfer to a third party any shares that were acquired by executing options according to the plan for the period of one year from the date of aforementioned execution, unless the Company agrees otherwise.

Should someone cease being an employee of the Company and still hold the Company's shares, then the employee will be prevented from selling or transferring these shares for a period of one year from the termination of employment and the Company will be entitled during that period to instruct the former employee to sell the shares to the Company or to whomever the Company designates.

The Company asked the tax authorities to recognize the options plan as a "share allotment by a trustee" according to section 102 of the Tax Ordinance "labor income." Therefore, the benefit component of the plan will be a recognized deduction for tax purposes.

NOTE 22 – EFFECT OF VARIANCES BETWEEN ISRAELI GAAP AND U.S. GAAP IN THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The financial statements are represented according to the Israeli GAAP.

The significant differences between the Israeli GAAP and the U.S. GAAP relate primarily to the following matters:

A. Presentation of liability for termination of employee/employer relationship

According to the Israeli GAAP, the sum of a funded provision in a provident fund is deducted from the related liability. According to the U.S. GAAP, offsetting assets and liabilities in these circumstances is not acceptable.

B. Goodwill

In the financial statements that were prepared according to the Israeli GAAP, the Company has allocated the difference between the purchase price and the subsidiary equity to goodwill, instead of allocating the difference to other intangible assets. In the financial statements prepared according to the U.S. GAAP, the Company has allocated the difference to other intangible assets, which were amortized according to the benefit that the Company expected to receive from them. All of those intangible assets were amortized to zero by December 31st, 2005.

NOTE 2 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation

The Company’s accounting policies are in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Use of Estimates

In preparing financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, management makes certain estimates and assumptions, where applicable, that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, as well as the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. While actual results could differ from those estimates, management does not expect such variances, if any, to have a material effect on the financial statements.

Concentration of Credit Risk

The company’s sole business operations are derived from a distribution and office facility in Teaneck, New Jersey.

The financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to concentration of credit risk are accounts receivable. The company sells products to domestic and international customers. From the company’s customers, five customers individually represent approximately 69% of the company’s sales volume. As of December 31, 2007, these five customers represent approximately 70% of the company’s total account receivable.

The Company maintains cash in bank deposit accounts which, at times, exceed federally insured limits. The Company has not experienced any losses on these accounts.

Fair Value

The carrying value of accrued expenses approximates fair value due to the short-term nature of the liability.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid investments with maturities of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Accounts Receivable

Accounts receivable are reported at their outstanding unpaid principal balance reduced by an allowance for doubtful accounts. The Company records allowances based on specific receivables. The Company writes off accounts receivable against the allowance when a balance is determined to be uncollectible. As of December 31, 2007 the allowance for doubtful accounts amounted to $118,466.
